Go behind the scenes of the nation’s capital with The Washington Center (TWC)’s academic seminars. During these short-term programs, you’ll gain unparalleled access to the people and places of Washington, D.C. along with an in-depth understanding of the biggest issues facing our nation.

Each seminar includes sessions with some of D.C.’s most distinguished speakers and public figures, educational briefings at government agencies, think tanks, embassies and other sites around the city, and small group discussions to reflect on the topics presented.

Inside Washington
January 2–10, 2022 | Washington, D.C. | $1,995

Explore bipartisan policy, media and politics in the city where history is made. During this one-week seminar, you’ll engage with thought leaders, political experts and seasoned journalists as they dive into hot-button topics.

Past speakers include NBC’s “Meet the Press” moderator Chuck Todd, U.S. Supreme Court Justice Stephen Breyer and White House Correspondent April Ryan. Past educational briefing sites include the Cato Institute, Voice of America, Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars and various politically focused organizations.

National Security
May 15-21, 2022 | Washington, D.C. | $1,995

Dive into issues surrounding the defensive and offensive protection of U.S. interests domestic, abroad and online. As part of this one-week program, you’ll interact with national security experts who tackle these issues every day and gain a deeper understanding of the challenges and opportunities in this intriguing field.

Past speakers include the Department of Homeland Security’s Dr. Dan Massey and former CIA Director, John Brennan. Past educational briefing sites include the Metropolitan Police Department Homeland Security Bureau, Department of Energy Insider Threat Program and the Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS).
If you join TWC for an academic seminar, you’re guaranteed a spot in our housing. You’ll be living in furnished apartments in NoMa (North of Massachusetts Avenue), a cosmopolitan neighborhood full of unique restaurants and nightlife. You’ll be steps away from the National Mall and the best that Washington, D.C. has to offer! Scan the QR code below to see a tour of our Residential and Academic Facility.

Scan the QR code to watch a tour of our Residential and Academic Facility

Next Steps

Many students participate as part of a group with their home institutions, so you may be able to earn academic credit as part of your seminar experience. Contact info@twc.edu to see if your school is bringing a group to an upcoming seminar and scan the QR code below to learn more!

Scan the QR code to learn more

I will always remember how every seminar speaker emphasized the power we have as individuals. The speakers motivated us to do more and take action if we wanted to see change.

Evan Kinney, participated in the National Security seminar